We, therefore, opened it this week with some desire to know what it had to say of Mr. GARPIELD's letter of acceptance, and how far our own comments were borne out by those of so able a journal. When we have recapitulated The Nation's points, the reader can judge for himself whether, as has been charged, the Dispatch treated Mr. GARFIELD unfairly, or mistook or misstated any of his positions.

First, The Nation says that in comparison with Mr. HAYES's letter of 1876, "what made up by clearness of statement or independence of attitude." "As a vital, historical document it bears no comparison with Mr. HAYES's letter, and will pase into as speedy oblivion as the platform which in-

Washington, July 14—A leading Republican, holding a prominent Federal office in Virginia, who was in Washington to-day, says that he believes the Republicans will carry four congressional districts. In the Richmond district John S. Wise will undoubtedly be the candidate of the Readusters, and George D. Wise, his cousin, will be the Funders' candidate. The Republican nomination will probably lay beween Wickbam, of Richmond, and Walker, of Chesterfield. There will be between the consensation of the consen 15.000 and 120.000 Democratic votes cast, of which the Readjusters will have the ma jority. With an energetic canvass the Re-publicans will lead the strongest branch of the Democracy by from 25,000 to 30,000

The state of feeling is such between the two factions of the Democracy that memtempts be made by their leaders looking toward compromise, they will support the Republican Heket.

So that the MAHONE electoral ticket is expected to divide the HANCOCK vote so as to give Virginia to GARFIELD, and four Republican congressmen are to be elected in this State!

Will the people of Virginia allow themselves to be deceived into the support of this latter-day ticket?

GRAND HOTEL. INDIANAPOLIS, July 13.—
The Republicans have completed their poil of the Stale. They make a very handsome showing for the Democrats abould feel profoundly grateful for the liberal estimate they make for them. They (the Republicans) only carry the Stale, according to the poll, by 2,300 majority. This is jolly good news—lovely; but I thought the postmasters' figures in the State would run 23,000, but instead of that it is only a little the rise of the insignificant figures of 2.000. And yet they acknowledge that the State is close—only 2,300 in their favor. They carried Marion county in 1878 by 1,179, but this year they count on 1,900. I suppose they are counting on repeating about a thousand negroes in Indianapolis in October to make good this claim. Perhaps their little repesting game will be stamped out before election-day as it was in 1876. But this poll is an interesting study. Through the kindness of a friend I have a correct copy in my possession, and propose to analyze it in the future for the interest of all whom it may concern.

ISSUE BETWEEN THE REPUBLICANS AND THE FUSION PARTY-SENATOR BLAINE TO ASSUME COMMAND AGAIN.

Correspondence of the Philadelphia Press. Rep.1 PORTLAND, ME., July 12 .- The political situation in this State is getting interesting. Both parties are fully organized for the contest, and the coalition against the Republicans is already making its advance upon the country districts, where it is now

The situation this year is much more fa-vorable to the Republicans than last year. They have nominated "Corporal Davis because he stood the test of a great emerchinery which directed and carried the last contest has not been allowed to rust, but is in good order, and will be committed to the same strong hands that controlled it last eason. He is more in demand among his people than any speaker in the nation, and his name will draw a crowd numbering thousands at any cross-roads. Secretary Sherman is expected to open the campaign this year, as he did last, at this place, about the 24th of July. This would seem to set at rest the story that there is any feeling between himself and Mr. Blaine as to the outcome of the Chicago cock or Garfield. There are about 120 Convention. Following Secretary Sherman Federal offices in Virginia, and that is about all." Now, for one, I like for men to speak out plainly, and not try to deceive to speak out plainly, and not try to deceive chances, there is to be a repetition of the spirited contest of last year.

The Democrats this year have made no nomination, but they endorsed the Greenback nominee, General H. M. Plaisted. He back nominee, General H. M. Paisted. He is a man of talent, and once had a strong following in the Bangor district, where he lives. He is a good stump-speaker, and, with all, a fair candidate.

Mr. Davis last year lacked something like 2,000 votes of having a majority over the other two candidates. If this could be taken as a criterion for this year's judgment it would seem that the chances were against the Republicans. Not so, however; for General Plaisted cannot command the Democratic vote, and he will lose a large portion of the Republican vote which has supported the Greenback ticket the last two elections. The 12,600 hard-shell Democrats who voted for Garcelon will stay at home, and with the Republican vote back to its party allegiance Davis will beat his opponent 5,000 votes at a low estimate.

He said that for them to leave the Republican party would be death, and he hoped they would support the Re-

Mr. Robinson made an address upon taking the chair, in which he showed how greatly indebted the colored man is to the Republican party. Still he maintained that without the efforts of the colored man in the late war the army of the Union would not have been successful. He claimed that the colored men are citizens, and should not be classed as Republicans simply, but as citizens, among men free and independent, and yet greatly under obligations to the Republican party. P. J. Johnson Howard, of New York, was introduced to the Convention. General Kilpatrick then addressed the Convention Rev. J. D. He alluded to the fact that there is now but a single colored representative in Congress, and that he will go out in March next. He claimed political rights for his race, and insisted that they can only be enjoyed by persistance in supporting no man for office who will discriminate against the colored race, and withholding their support from any man who will not recognize their rights to any position or equality before the law.

Mr. Howard said he did not subscribe to all that had been said; he believed it was his duty to support the Republican nominee and if we want anything we must fight through upon our merits.
